GOODRX REPORTS THIRD QUARTER 2026 RESULTS AND PROVIDES UPDATE ON COMPLIANCE WITH NASDAQ LISTING REQUIREMENTS

Pharma Direct and Subscription Revenue Increased 93% and 41%, Respectively, Year-Over-Year
Company Raises Full-Year 2026 Revenue and Adjusted EBITDA Expectations

SANTA MONICA, Calif. -- (November 24, 2026) -- GoodRx Holdings, Inc. (Nasdaq: GDRX) ("we," "us," "our," "GoodRx," or the "Company"), the trusted platform for prescription access and affordability in the U.S., has released its financial results for the third quarter of 2026.

Third Quarter 2026 Highlights

- Revenue of $218.4 million
- Net income of $16.4 million; Net income margin of 7.5%
- Adjusted EBITDA[1] of $74.5 million; Adjusted EBITDA Margin[1] of 34.1%
- Net cash provided by operating activities of $97.0 million
- Free Cash Flow[1] of $81.1 million

"Our third quarter results show that the strategy we set in motion this year is working," said Wendy Barnes, President and Chief Executive Officer of GoodRx. "Pharma Direct and subscriptions are helping us serve more of consumers' healthcare needs and now account for more than half of our total revenue. We see a significant opportunity to build on that demand, strengthening GoodRx's role in healthcare affordability and creating a more durable business over time."

[1] Adjusted EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA Margin, Adjusted Net Income, Adjusted Net Income Margin, and Free Cash Flow are non-GAAP financial measures and are presented for supplemental informational purposes only. Adjusted EBITDA Margin and Adjusted Net Income Margin are defined as Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted Net Income, respectively, divided by Adjusted Revenue. Refer to the Non-GAAP Financial Measures section below for definitions, additional information, and reconciliations to the most directly comparable GAAP measures.

Update on Compliance with Nasdaq Listing Requirements

The Company has filed its Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarterly period ended September 30, 2026 today and expects that such filing will enable it to regain compliance with the Nasdaq Stock Market LLC ("Nasdaq") Listing Rule 5250(c)(1), subject to confirmation by Nasdaq.

Third Quarter 2026 Financial Overview (all comparisons are made to the same period of the prior year unless otherwise noted):

Revenue increased 11% to $218.4 million compared to $196.0 million.

Prescription transactions revenue decreased 20% to $101.6 million compared to $127.3 million, primarily driven by a decrease in the number of our Monthly Active Consumers due to higher consumer prices and competition, coupled with the deliberate shift of product and marketing investment toward our new subscription offerings. The year-over-year decrease was also due to lower unit economics which we expect to continue in the near-term as we made deliberate decisions to favor long-term durability and certainty.

Subscription revenue increased 41% to $29.2 million compared to $20.7 million, primarily driven by the expansion and growth of our condition-specific subscription programs, in particular weight loss, as well as a resulting increase in the number of subscription plans.

Pharma Direct revenue increased 93% to $83.6 million compared to $43.4 million, driven by organic growth as we continued to expand our market penetration with pharma manufacturers and other customers, in particular our GLP-1 access programs, which are part of our consumer direct pricing.

Net income was $16.4 million compared to $1.1 million. Net income margin was 7.5% compared to 0.6%. Adjusted Net Income[1] was $36.1 million compared to $28.8 million.

Adjusted EBITDA[1] was $74.5 million compared to $66.3 million. Adjusted EBITDA Margin[1] was 34.1% compared to 33.8%.

Cash Flow and Capital Allocation

Net cash provided by operating activities in the third quarter was $97.0 million compared to $76.0 million in the comparable period last year. Free Cash Flow in the third quarter was $81.1 million compared to $58.0 million in the comparable period last year. As of September 30, 2026, we had cash and cash equivalents of $371.8 million and total outstanding debt of $491.3 million.

We are focused on a disciplined approach to capital allocation, centered on furthering our mission and creating stockholder value. Our capital allocation priorities are investing for profitable growth, paying down debt, buying back shares, and M&A that aligns with our strategic priorities. These capital allocation priorities support our long-term growth strategy while also providing flexibility to navigate near-term challenges.

Guidance

Management is raising its full-year 2026 guidance as follows:

$ in millions	FY 2026	FY 2025	YoY Change
Revenue	$844 - $850	$796.9	6% - 7%
Adjusted EBITDA[2]	$280 - $286	$270.5	4% - 6%

"We delivered third quarter revenue of $218.4 million and Adjusted EBITDA[1] of $74.5 million, as Pharma Direct and subscriptions continued to perform well," said Justin Fengler, Chief Financial Officer and Chief Strategy & Operations Officer of GoodRx. "We are raising our full-year revenue and Adjusted EBITDA[2] guidance, which incorporates the restatement of our first and second quarter results, and expect 2026 to be a record year for both measures."

[2] Adjusted EBITDA is a non-GAAP financial measure and is presented for supplemental informational purposes only. We have not reconciled our Adjusted EBITDA guidance to GAAP net income or loss because we do not provide guidance for such GAAP measure due to the uncertainty and potential variability of stock-based compensation expense, acquired intangible assets and related amortization and income taxes, which are reconciling items between Adjusted EBITDA and the most directly comparable GAAP measure. Because such items cannot be provided without unreasonable efforts, we are unable to provide a reconciliation of the non-GAAP financial measure guidance to the corresponding GAAP measure. However, such items could have a significant impact on our future GAAP net income or loss.

Amendments to Previously Disclosed Periodic Reports

As previously disclosed in our Current Report on Form 8-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") on November 2, 2026, it was determined that a portion of revenue within our Pharma Direct offering that was not recognized during the three months ended March 31, 2026 and June 30, 2026 should have been recognized in each such period when the underlying claims activity occurred and the related performance obligations were satisfied in accordance with Accounting Standards Codification 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers. After a review led by the Audit and Risk Committee, with the assistance of independent third-party advisors, it was concluded that the error was the result of former members of senior financial management overriding or circumventing certain internal controls resulting in the understatement of Pharma Direct revenue. Additionally, this error resulted in the understatement of related costs and expenses, income tax expense, and net income, and corresponding misstatements of accounts receivable, prescription reimbursement assets and liabilities, and other related balance sheet accounts, as well as related misstatements of stockholders' equity and individual line items within the condensed consolidated statement of cash flows, with no impact on the net cash provided by operating activities or net cash used in investing or financing activities. We concluded that the impact of the error and related corrections was material to our previously reported results for such periods. As a result, we restated our condensed consolidated financial statements for the affected periods in amendments to our Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q for the quarterly periods ended March 31, 2026 and June 30, 2026, filed with the SEC on November 24, 2026. Unless otherwise indicated, the financial information presented below reflects the effects of the restatement, as further described in the respective amended filings. For additional information regarding the underlying factual circumstances of the restatement and related material weaknesses, please see Amendment No. 1 to our Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q for the quarterly periods ended March 31, 2026 and June 30, 2026, as well as our Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarterly period ended September 30, 2026.

In addition, in connection with the foregoing, we have also filed an amendment to our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025, to, among other things, disclose a change to our conclusion as to internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2025 and amend the report of our former auditor with respect to internal control over financial reporting as of such date. Such amendment does not restate any financial statements in the Annual Report on Form 10-K.

Forward-Looking Statements

This press release contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. All statements contained in this press release that do not relate to matters of historical fact should be considered forward-looking statements, including without limitation statements regarding our future results of operations and financial position, industry and business trends, our value proposition, the durability of our business and our business strategy, our market opportunity, our expectation that we will regain compliance with the Nasdaq Listing Rule, our capital allocation priorities, remediation of our material weaknesses, and Pharma Direct and subscription offerings as drivers of future growth of our business. These statements are neither promises nor guarantees, but involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other important factors that may cause our actual results, performance or achievements to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements, including, but not limited to, risks related to our limited operating history and early stage of growth; our recent growth rates may not be sustainable or indicative of future growth; our ability to regain compliance with the Nasdaq Listing Rule; our ability to achieve broad market education and change consumer purchasing habits; our general ability to continue to attract, acquire and retain consumers in a cost-effective manner; our significant reliance on our prescription transactions offering and ability to expand our offerings; changes in medication pricing and the significant impact of pricing structures negotiated by industry participants; our general inability to control the categories and types of prescriptions for which we can offer savings or discounted prices; our reliance on a limited number of industry participants, including pharmacy benefit managers, pharmacies, and pharma manufacturers; the competitive nature of our industry; risks related to pandemics, epidemics, or outbreak of infectious disease; the accuracy of our estimate of our addressable market and other operational metrics; our ability to respond to changes in the market for prescription pricing and to maintain and expand the use of GoodRx codes; our ability to maintain positive perception of our platform or maintain and enhance our brand; risks related to the restatement of our condensed consolidated financial statements for the quarterly periods ended March 31, 2026 and June 30, 2026; risks related to the identified material weaknesses in our internal control over financial reporting and our remediation efforts, as well as any future failure to maintain effective internal control over financial reporting; risks related to use of social media, emails, text messages, and other messaging channels as part of our marketing strategy; our dependence on our information technology systems and those of our third-party vendors, and risks related to any failure or significant disruptions thereof; risks related to government regulation of the internet, e-commerce, consumer data and privacy, information technology, and cybersecurity; risks related to the use of AI and machine learning in our business; risks related to a decrease in consumer willingness to receive correspondence or any technical, legal, or any other restrictions to send such correspondence; risks related to any failure to comply with applicable data protection, privacy and security, advertising and consumer protection laws, regulations, standards, and other requirements; our ability to utilize our net operating loss carryforwards and certain other tax attributes; the risk that we may be unable to realize expected benefits from our restructuring and cost reduction efforts; our ability to attract, develop, motivate and retain well-qualified employees; risks related to our acquisition strategy; risks related to our debt arrangements; interruptions or delays in service on our apps or websites or any undetected errors or design faults; our reliance on third-party platforms to distribute our platform and offerings, including software as-a-service technologies; systems failures or other disruptions in the operations of these parties on which we depend; risks related to climate change; risks associated with environmental sustainability and social initiatives; risks related to our intellectual property; risks related to operating in the healthcare industry; risks related to our organizational structure; litigation related risks; our ability to accurately forecast revenue and appropriately plan our expenses in the future; risks related to general economic factors, natural disasters, or other unexpected events; risks related to fluctuations in our tax obligations and effective income tax rate which could materially and adversely affect our results of operations; risks related to the healthcare reform legislation and other proposed or future changes impacting the healthcare industry and healthcare spending, including the new platform TrumpRx, which may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations; as well as the other important factors discussed in the section entitled “Risk Factors” of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2025, as amended, our Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarterly period ended September 30, 2026, and in our other filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The forward-looking statements in this press release are based upon information available to us as of the date of this press release, and while we believe such information forms a reasonable basis for such statements, such information may be limited or incomplete, and our statements should not be read to indicate that we have conducted an exhaustive inquiry into, or review of, all potentially available relevant information. These statements are inherently uncertain and investors are cautioned not to unduly rely upon these statements. While we may elect to update such forward-looking statements at some point in the future, we disclaim any obligation to do so, even if subsequent events cause our views to change.

Key Operating Metrics

Monthly Active Consumers (MACs) refers to the number of unique consumers who have used a GoodRx code to purchase a prescription medication in a given calendar month and have saved money compared to the list price of the medication. A unique consumer who uses a GoodRx code more than once in a calendar month to purchase prescription medications is only counted as one Monthly Active Consumer in that month. A unique consumer who uses a GoodRx code in two or three calendar months within a quarter will be counted as a Monthly Active Consumer in each such month. Monthly Active Consumers do not include subscribers to our subscription offerings, consumers of our Pharma Direct offering, or consumers who used our telehealth offering. When presented for a period longer than a month, Monthly Active Consumers are averaged over the number of calendar months in such period. Monthly Active Consumers from acquired companies are included beginning from the acquisition date. As our business continues to evolve, we are reassessing the Monthly Active Consumers metric as a primary indicator of performance to ensure it aligns with how we measure growth and profitability.

Subscription plans represent the ending subscription plan balance across our subscription offerings, GoodRx Gold, condition-specific subscription programs (first launched in June 2025), RxSmartSaver+ powered by GoodRx (launched in July 2025) and GoodRx Companion (monthly, annual, and family plans launched in May, July, and September 2026, respectively). For GoodRx Gold, RxSmartSaver+, and GoodRx Companion, each subscription plan may represent more than one subscriber since family subscription plans may include multiple members.

Non-GAAP Financial Measures

Adjusted Revenue and metrics presented as a percentage of Adjusted Revenue, Adjusted EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA Margin, Adjusted Net Income, Adjusted Net Income Margin, Adjusted Earnings Per Share, and Free Cash Flow are supplemental measures that are not required by, or presented in accordance with, U.S. GAAP. We also present each cost and operating expense on our condensed consolidated statements of operations on an adjusted basis to arrive at adjusted operating income. Collectively, we refer to these non-GAAP financial measures as our “Non-GAAP Measures."

We define Adjusted Revenue for a particular period as revenue excluding client contract termination costs associated with restructuring related activities. We exclude these costs from revenue because we believe they are not indicative of past or future underlying performance of the business. For the current period and full year of 2025, revenue was equal to Adjusted Revenue. In addition, we expect revenue for the full year of 2026 to equal Adjusted Revenue.

We define Adjusted EBITDA for a particular period as net income or loss before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization, and as further adjusted for, as applicable for the periods presented, acquisition related expenses, stock-based compensation expense, payroll tax expense related to stock-based compensation, loss on extinguishment of debt, financing related expenses, loss on operating lease assets, restructuring related expenses, legal settlement expenses, restatement-related professional fees, gain on sale of business, and other income or expense, net. Adjusted EBITDA Margin represents Adjusted EBITDA as a percentage of Adjusted Revenue.

We define Adjusted Net Income for a particular period as net income or loss adjusted for, as applicable for the periods presented, amortization of intangibles related to acquisitions and restructuring activities, acquisition related expenses, stock-based compensation expense, payroll tax expense related to stock-based compensation, loss on extinguishment of debt, financing related expenses, loss on operating lease assets, restructuring related expenses, legal settlement expenses, restatement-related professional fees, gain on sale of business, other income or expense, net, and as further adjusted for estimated income tax on such adjusted items. Our adjusted taxes also exclude (i) the valuation allowance recorded against certain of our net deferred tax assets that was recognized in accordance with GAAP and any subsequent releases of the valuation allowance, and (ii) all tax benefits/expenses resulting from excess tax benefits/deficiencies in connection with stock-based compensation. Adjusted Net Income Margin represents Adjusted Net Income as a percentage of Adjusted Revenue.

Adjusted Earnings Per Share is Adjusted Net Income attributable to common stockholders divided by weighted average number of shares. The weighted average shares we use in computing Adjusted Earnings Per Share – basic is equal to our GAAP weighted average shares – basic and the weighted average shares we use in computing Adjusted Earnings Per Share – diluted is equal to either GAAP weighted average shares – basic or GAAP weighted average shares – diluted, depending on whether we have adjusted net loss or adjusted net income, respectively.

We define Free Cash Flow for a particular period as net cash provided by or used in operating activities less purchases of property and equipment and investment in capitalized software.

We also assess our performance by evaluating each cost and operating expense on our condensed consolidated statements of operations on a non-GAAP, or adjusted, basis to arrive at adjusted operating income. The adjustments to these cost and operating expense items include, as applicable for the periods presented, acquisition related expenses, amortization of intangibles related to acquisitions and restructuring activities, stock-based compensation expense, payroll tax expense related to stock-based compensation, financing related expenses, restructuring related expenses, legal settlement expenses, restatement-related professional fees, loss on operating lease assets, and gain on sale of business. Adjusted operating income is Adjusted Revenue less non-GAAP costs and operating expenses.

We believe our Non-GAAP Measures are helpful to investors, analysts and other interested parties because they assist in providing a more consistent and comparable overview of our operations across our historical financial periods. Adjusted Revenue, Adjusted EBITDA, and Adjusted EBITDA Margin are key measures we use to assess our financial performance, while Free Cash Flow is a key measure we use to assess our liquidity and cash generation. These measures are also used for internal planning and forecasting purposes. In addition, Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA Margin are frequently used by analysts, investors and other interested parties to evaluate and assess performance, while Free Cash Flow is frequently used by these parties to evaluate and assess liquidity and cash generation.

The Non-GAAP Measures are presented for supplemental informational purposes only and should not be considered as alternatives or substitutes to financial information presented in accordance with GAAP. These measures have certain limitations. Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA Margin do not include the impact of certain costs that are reflected in our condensed consolidated statements of operations that are necessary to run our business. Free Cash Flow does not reflect our future contractual commitments and does not represent the total increase or decrease in our cash balance for a given period. Free Cash Flow also does not necessarily represent funds available for discretionary use or our ability to fund our cash needs. Other companies, including other companies in our industry, may not use these measures or may calculate these measures differently than as presented herein, limiting their usefulness as comparative measures.
