Investor presentation

Disclaimer

This presentation and related discussion are being presented by UL Solutions Inc. ("UL Solutions," the "Company," "we," "us" and "our") solely for informational purposes. This presentation and accompanying statements contain "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. All statements other than statements of historical facts contained in this presentation may be forward-looking statements. These include statements regarding the Company's business strategy, growth opportunities, capital allocation priorities and expected financial performance, including statements regarding the Company's expectations with respect to the previously announced expense reduction initiative (the "Restructuring Plan"), the payment of quarterly dividends and other potential capital return opportunities, the Company's acquisitions, divestitures and other strategic transactions (including the Company's proposed acquisition of Eurofins Scientific's Electrical and Electronics business (the "E&E Transaction")), including statements regarding the expected timing and closing of the E&E Transaction, required regulatory approvals, expected financing sources, projected standalone revenue of the acquired business, expected synergies, expected transaction multiple, expected accretion to Adjusted Diluted EPS, integration plans, strategic rationale and other expected benefits. In some cases, you can identify forward-looking statements by terms such as "may," "will," "should," "would," "likely," "expects," "plans," "anticipates," "could," "intends," "targets," "projects," "contemplates," "believes," "estimates," "predicts," "potential," "continues," "outlook" and variations of these terms and similar expressions, or the negative of these terms or similar expressions (although not all forward-looking statements may contain such words). There are or will be important factors that could cause the Company's actual results to differ materially from those expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements made in this presentation, including, but not limited to, the following: any failure on the Company's part to protect and maintain its brand and reputation, or the impact on its brand or reputation of third-party events or actions outside of its control; risks associated with the Company's information technology and software, including those relating to any future data breach or other cybersecurity incident; the potential disruption of the industries in which the Company operates by technological advances in artificial intelligence; the Company's ability to innovate, adapt to changing customer needs and successfully introduce new products and services in response to changes in the Company's industries and technological advances; the Company's ability to compete in its industries and the effects of increased competition from its competitors; risks associated with conducting business outside the United States, including those relating to fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates; the imposition of tariffs and enhanced trade, import or export restrictions or changes in U.S. trade policy or similar government actions; and global, regional or political instability and geopolitical tensions; risks related to sustainability; risks associated with the Company's operations in China, which subject the Company and UL-CCIC Company Limited, the Company's joint venture with the China Certification & Inspection (Group) Co., Ltd. ("CCIC"), to China's complex and rapidly evolving laws, which may be interpreted, applied or enforced inconsistently or in ways inconsistent with its current operations, as well as risks associated with the fact that the Chinese government has the power to exercise significant oversight and discretion over, and intervene in and influence, its business operations in China; the relationship between the United States and China and between the Company and CCIC, as well as changes in U.S. and Chinese regulations affecting the Company's business operations in China; any failure on the Company's part to attract, hire or retain its key employees, including its senior leadership and its skilled and trained engineering, technical and professional personnel; the level of the Company's customers' satisfaction and any failure on its part to properly and timely perform its services, meet its contractual obligations or fulfill its customers' needs; changes to the relevant regulatory frameworks or private sector requirements, including any requirement that the Company accept third-party test results or certifications of components, end products, processes or systems or any changes that result in a reduction in required inspections, tests or certifications or harmonized international or cross-industry benchmarks and standards; the Company's ability to adequately maintain, protect and enhance its intellectual property, including its registered UL-in-a-circle certification mark and other certification marks; the Company's ability to implement its growth strategies and initiatives successfully; the Company's reliance on third parties, including subcontractors and outside laboratories; the Company's ability to obtain and maintain the requisite licenses, approvals, accreditations and delegations of authority necessary to conduct its business; the outcomes of current and future legal proceedings; the Company's level of indebtedness and future cash needs; failure to generate sufficient cash to service the Company's indebtedness; a change in the assumptions the Company uses to value its goodwill or intangible assets, or the impairment of its goodwill or intangible assets; the Company's ability to generate sufficient cash to service its indebtedness and invest in the ongoing needs of its business; the increased expenses and responsibilities associated with being a public company; the significant influence that ULSE Inc., its parent and controlling stockholder, has over the Company, including pursuant to its rights under the Company's amended and restated certificate of incorporation and the Stockholder Agreement with ULSE Inc.; natural disasters and other catastrophic events, including pandemics and the rapid spread of contagious illnesses; changes in tax laws in jurisdictions in which the Company operates or adverse outcomes resulting from examination of the Company or its affiliates' tax returns; risks that the Company may be unable to implement the Restructuring Plan on the anticipated timing, that local law and consultation requirements, including for potential position eliminations, extends the restructuring process further in certain countries or causes the actual charges and expenditures that the Company incurs in connection with the Restructuring Plan, and the timing thereof, to differ materially from estimates, that the Company may incur other charges or cash expenditures not currently contemplated due to unanticipated events that may occur, including in connection with the implementation of the Restructuring Plan, and that the Company may not be able to realize the anticipated benefits of the Restructuring Plan; the occurrence of any event, change, or other circumstance that could give rise to the termination of the proposed transaction with Eurofins Scientific SE (the "E&E Transaction") and the payment of a break fee; the possibility that one or more closing conditions to the E&E Transaction, including the receipt of certain regulatory approvals, may not be satisfied or waived, in a timely manner or at all, including the risk that a governmental entity may prohibit, delay, or refuse to grant approval for the consummation of the E&E Transaction, or may require conditions, limitations, or restrictions in connection with such approvals; the risk that the E&E Transaction may not be completed within the expected timeframe, or at all; unexpected costs, charges or expenses resulting from the E&E Transaction; uncertainty regarding the expected financial performance following completion of the E&E Transaction; the Company's ability to achieve its short-term and long-term operating targets following completion of the E&E Transaction; the effects that the announcement or pendency of the E&E Transaction may have on the Company; the acquired business' and the Company's respective businesses and ability to retain and hire key personnel and maintain relationships with customers, suppliers and others with whom the acquired business or the Company do business; the effects that termination of the E&E Transaction may have on the Company or its business; failure to successfully complete the E&E Transaction; legal proceedings that may be instituted related to the E&E Transaction; the Company's ability or failure to successfully integrate the acquired business with existing operations; and the Company's ability to realize anticipated synergies or obtain the results anticipated; and other factors discussed in the Company's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"), including those set forth under "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" in Part II, Item 7 of the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025 (the "Annual Report") and under "Risk Factors" in Part I, Item 1A of the Annual Report, as well as other factors described from time to time in the Company's filings with the SEC. Changes in such assumptions or factors could produce materially different results. The information contained in this presentation is as of the date indicated. Except as otherwise required by law, the Company assumes no obligation to publicly update or review any forward-looking statements contained in this presentation, whether as a result of new information, future developments or otherwise. Certain information contained in this presentation and oral statements made during this presentation relate to or are based on estimates regarding market and industry data that the Company prepared based on management's knowledge and estimates, together with information obtained from publicly available resources, other third-party sources, the Company's customers and other contacts in the markets in which the Company operates. Management's estimates are derived in part from third-party sources and data from the Company's internal research. In presenting market and industry data in this presentation, management has made certain assumptions that it believes to be reasonable based on the data available to the Company and other sources, as well as on management's knowledge of, and experience to date in, the industry and markets in which the Company operates. Projections, assumptions and estimates of the present or future, as applicable, performance of the industry in which the Company operates and the Company's future performance are necessarily subject to uncertainty and risk due to a variety of factors. These and other factors could cause results to differ materially from those expressed in the estimates made by third-party sources and by management. All trademarks and logos depicted in this presentation are the property of their respective owners and are displayed solely for purposes of illustration. Such use should not be construed as an endorsement of the products or services of the Company.

Non-GAAP measures

In addition to financial measures based on accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP"), this presentation includes supplemental non-GAAP financial information. Management uses non-GAAP measures in addition to GAAP measures to understand and compare operating results across periods and for forecasting and other purposes, including Adjusted EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA margin, Total Debt/Adjusted EBITDA, Adjusted Net Income, Adjusted Net Income margin, Adjusted Diluted Earnings Per Share, Free Cash Flow and Free Cash Flow margin. Management believes these non-GAAP measures provide useful information to investors and reflect results in a manner that enables, in some instances, more meaningful analysis of trends and facilitates comparison of results across periods. These non-GAAP financial measures have no standardized meaning presented in GAAP and may not be comparable to other similarly titled measures used by other companies due to potential differences between the companies in calculations. The use of these non-GAAP measures has limitations and they should not be considered as substitutes for measures of financial performance and financial position as prepared in accordance with GAAP. Reconciliations and definitions of each non-GAAP measure are included in the appendix to this presentation.

Capital allocation strategy prioritizing growth and relevance

Capital allocation priorities

Reinvest in the business

- Organic capital expenditure to support innovation, productivity and top-line growth
- Disciplined mergers and acquisitions (M&A) intended to enhance our capabilities or to extend our footprint to serve customers' evolving needs

Maintain strong balance sheet

- Conservative leverage consistent with investment-grade credit ratings
- Strong liquidity positions with committed, unused revolving credit facility capacity and cash

Return capital to shareholders¹

- Intend to pay regular quarterly dividends (most recent $0.145/share)
- May consider share repurchases to offset dilution

Investment-grade credit ratings and conservative target leverage

Growth strategy anchored in three key elements

Pursue organic opportunities

- Increase existing and new customer wallet share
- Expand presence in new and existing markets to address customer needs
- Develop innovative offerings fueled by tailwinds such as sustainability

Proven results

Expand margin through innovation

- Automate and digitize work that provides innovation in customer services and operations
- Increase utilization of people and assets
- Simplify and standardize processes and metrics

Increasing productivity

Be the acquirer of choice

- Continue proven, value-enhancing track record of tuck-ins
- Selectively pursue M&A that expands service offerings into adjacent verticals, markets or technologies
- Commit capital that supports targets' long-term post-acquisition growth plans

Accelerated growth

Acquisitions are a key lever for our growth

- More than $1.3B deployed toward 56 acquisitions from 2010 to 2025
- Acquisitions executed at attractive multiples in critical end markets
- Dedicated team of M&A professionals focused on sourcing, evaluation and execution
- Robust integration practice with acquired businesses typically integrated within 12 months

Eurofins E&E acquisition¹

- Transaction value of ~€575M
- ~14.5x synergized² estimated 2026 EBITDA³
- Expected to close in Q4 2026
- ~45% of the purchase price is anticipated to be funded through our portfolio management activities

EHS software sale

- Transaction proceeds of ~$202M
- Closed on April 1, 2026

DQS sale¹

- Transaction proceeds of ~€105M expected
- Expected to close in the second half of 2026

1. The transaction is subject to regulatory approvals and other customary closing conditions.

2. Including run-rate net cost synergies expected to be realized within three years following closing of the transaction excluding intangible amortization and integration costs.

3. EBITDA multiple represents E&E enterprise value, as of August 31, 2025, divided by projected 2026 E&E earnings (inclusive of run-rate net cost synergies) before interest expense, income tax expense, depreciation expense and amortization expense, further adjusted to exclude other expense (income), stock-based compensation expense, transaction fees and integration costs directly related to the E&E acquisition, and adjusted to remove historical cost allocations from the seller and to reflect estimated incremental costs of the business. The Company cannot provide a reconciliation for synergized estimated 2026 EBITDA because the Company cannot predict, without unreasonable effort, the timing and amount of reconciling items for certain components of net income. This forecasted item is not within the Company's control, may vary greatly between periods and could significantly impact future financial results.

Announced Eurofins E&E transaction

Eurofins E&E overview

- Acquiring Eurofins Scientific's E&E business, a global provider of TIC services for electromagnetic compatibility and wireless testing, electrical safety, and other technologies
- Expected to generate approximately $200 million in revenue in 2026, with a balanced mix across EMEA, Asia-Pacific and US

Strategic rationale

- Expected to extend our capabilities in key geographies and help drive continued growth in Consumer by bringing together a global infrastructure of complementary electrical testing and certification services
- Aligns with global megatrends shaping our world, especially in digitization and global compliance
- Increases breadth of capabilities, geographic reach, and ongoing certification services

Key transaction details

- Transaction value of ~€575 million, ~14.5x synergized^{1, 2} estimated 2026 EBITDA
- Expected to be accretive to Adjusted Diluted EPS in the first full calendar year post-close, excluding intangible amortization and integration costs
- Expected closing in Q4 2026, subject to obtaining necessary regulatory approvals and satisfying other customary closing conditions

1. Including run-rate net cost synergies expected to be realized within three years following closing of the transaction excluding intangible amortization and integration costs.

2. 1. Organic reflects revenue or expense change in a given period excluding Acquisition/Divestiture and FX in that same period, expressed in dollars or as a percentage of revenue in the prior period, as applicable.
2. FX reflects the impact that foreign currency exchange rates have on revenue in a given period, expressed in dollars or as a percentage of revenue in the prior period. The Company uses constant currency to calculate the FX impact on revenue in a given period by translating current period revenues at prior period exchange rates, expressed as a percentage of revenue in the prior period.
3. Acquisition/Divestiture is calculated as revenue change in a given period related to acquisitions or disposals of businesses using prior-period exchange rates, expressed in dollars or as a percentage of revenue in the prior period. Revenues from an acquisition or disposal are measured as Acquisition / Divestiture for the initial twelve-month period following the acquisition or disposal date. Subsequently, the revenue impact from the acquired or disposed business is measured as Organic.

1. The Company defines Adjusted EBITDA as net income adjusted for depreciation and amortization expense, interest expense, other expense (income), net, income tax expense, as well as stock-based compensation expense for equity-settled awards, material asset impairment charges and restructuring expenses, as applicable. The Company believes that the presentation of Adjusted EBITDA provides additional information to investors about certain non-cash items and unusual items that are not expected to continue at the same level in the future. Further, the Company believes Adjusted EBITDA provides a meaningful measure of business performance. There are material limitations to using Adjusted EBITDA. Adjusted EBITDA does not take into account certain significant items, including depreciation and amortization, interest expense, other expense (income), net, income tax expense, stock-based compensation expense for equity-settled awards, material asset impairment charges and restructuring expenses which directly affect the Company's net income, as applicable. These limitations are best addressed by considering the economic effects of the excluded items independently, and by considering Adjusted EBITDA in conjunction with net income as calculated in accordance with GAAP.

2. Adjusted EBITDA margin is calculated as Adjusted EBITDA as a percentage of revenue.

1. The Company defines Adjusted Net Income as net income adjusted for other expense (income), net, stock-based compensation expense for equity-settled awards, material asset impairment charges and restructuring expenses, as applicable, adjusted to give effect to the income tax impact of such adjustments. The Company believes that the presentation of Adjusted Net Income provides additional information to investors about certain non-cash items and unusual items that are not expected to continue at the same level in the future. Further, the Company believes Adjusted Net Income provides a meaningful measure of business performance. There are material limitations to using Adjusted Net Income. Adjusted Net Income does not take into account certain significant items, including other expense (income), net, stock-based compensation expense for equity-settled awards, material asset impairment charges and restructuring expenses which directly affect the Company's net income, as applicable. These limitations are best addressed by considering the economic effects of the excluded items independently, and by considering Adjusted Net Income in conjunction with net income as calculated in accordance with GAAP.

2. Adjusted Net Income margin is calculated as Adjusted Net Income as a percentage of revenue.

3. The Company computed the tax effect of adjustments to net earnings by applying the statutory tax rate in the relevant jurisdictions to the taxable income or expense items that are adjusted in the period presented. If a valuation allowance exists, the rate applied is zero.

1. The Company defines Adjusted Diluted Earnings Per Share as diluted earnings per share attributable to stockholders of UL Solutions adjusted for other expense, net, stock-based compensation expense for equity-settled awards, material asset impairment charges and restructuring expenses, as applicable, adjusted to give effect to the income tax impact of such adjustments. The Company believes that the presentation of Adjusted Diluted Earnings Per Share provides additional information to investors about certain non-cash items and unusual items that are not expected to continue at the same level in the future. Further, the Company believes Adjusted Diluted Earnings Per Share provides a meaningful measure of business performance. There are material limitations to using Adjusted Diluted Earnings Per Share. Adjusted Diluted Earnings Per Share does not take into account certain significant items, including other expense, net, stock-based compensation expense for equity-settled awards, material asset impairment charges and restructuring expenses which directly affect the Company's diluted earnings per share, as applicable. These limitations are best addressed by considering the economic effects of the excluded items independently, and by considering Adjusted Diluted Earnings Per Share in conjunction with diluted earnings per share as calculated in accordance with GAAP.

Free Cash Flow margin ³	19.8%	14.6%	14.5%	10.5%	13.2%	10.0%	9.4%	8.3%	12.5%

1. The Company defines Free Cash Flow as cash from operating activities less cash outlays related to capital expenditures. The Company defines capital expenditures to include purchases of property, plant and equipment and capitalized software. These items are subtracted from cash from operating activities because they represent long-term investments that are required for normal business activities. The Company uses Free Cash Flow as an additional liquidity measure and believes it provides useful information to investors about the cash generated from its core operations that may be available to repay debt, make other investments and return cash to stockholders. There are material limitations to using Free Cash Flow. Free Cash Flow adjusts for cash items that are ultimately within management's discretion to direct, and therefore, may imply that there is less or more cash that is available than the most comparable GAAP measure. Free Cash Flow is not intended to represent residual cash flow for discretionary expenditures since debt repayment requirements and other non-discretionary expenditures are not deducted. These limitations are best addressed by considering the economic effects of the excluded items independently, and by considering Free Cash Flow in conjunction with net cash provided by operating activities as calculated in accordance with GAAP.

2. Last 12 months.

3. Free Cash Flow margin is calculated as Free Cash Flow as a percentage of revenue.
